

Our focus is on inspirational stewardship that grows generosity and gratitude as spiritual practices to manage well the gifts God has given us including time, talents, treasure, and terra.

Members of the Stewardship Commission:

- Send monthly expressions of gratitude for the gifts and commitments of time, talent and treasure given to the church throughout the year
- Steward the financial giving, including pledges and congregational giving, capital campaign funds, legacy and planned giving and endowment funds
- Review and update our membership data
- Celebrate the congregation's generosity on Stewardship Sunday
- Recognize and honor our veterans and those serving our country
- Support the work of the church's Green Team in managing our use of earthly resources
- Support and develop the congregation's spiritual practice of giving through the offering and beyond

Stewardship is the spiritual practice of gratitude and generosity, lived out in the work of this commission.
